

ALICE TALKWORLD

Networking to Impact

ORGANIZATION REPORT

Consolidated Programme Report: 2024, 2025 & 2026

Standford Hospital Road, Accra Madina power land
atw@alicetalkworld.org | +233 24 201 0044

TABLE OF CONTENTS

About Us

---

Our Vision & Mission

---

Our Core Values

---

Message from the Director

---

Advancing Gender Equality in STEM

---

Key Activities & Impact 2024

---

Key Activities & Impact 2025

---

Key Activities & Impact 2026
(Current Programs)

---

Measurable Impact Summary
(2024–2026)

---

Experience of Similar Projects

---

Future Goals

---

Conclusion

ABOUT ALICETALKWORLD

Alice TalkWorld (ATW) is a youth led organisation working to close the access gap for young people, and young women in particular, across Ghana. Talent isn't the scarce resource. Access is: to mentors, to networks, to the kind of structured support that turns ambition into something real. We work across leadership development, mentorship, women and girls' empowerment, education, entrepreneurship, and community advocacy, and we have kept that work practical. Leadership programmes. Mentorship pairings that actually meet. Digital skills training. Women's empowerment cohorts that graduate together. Health and education campaigns that reach communities directly. Together, these have touched thousands of young people across Ghana. What started as a single university engagement has grown into a national footprint. The direction from here is clear: give more young people, especially young women, a real shot at leadership.

To position ATW as the premier conduit for bridging the gap between tertiary students and industry stakeholders, enhancing employability skills throughout their academic journey and beyond.

OUR VISION

To facilitate the convergence of emerging leaders, fostering a dynamic platform for networking and collaboration, aimed at catalyzing substantial global impact.

OUR MISSION

OUR CORE VALUES

1

LEADERSHIP

Cultivating emerging leaders through mentorship and exposure.

2

NETWORKING

Building and maintaining relationships with people to exchange information, support, and opportunities for personal or professional growth.

3

INFLUENCE

Creating strategic partnerships that connect students with industry leaders.

4

INNOVATION

Encouraging creative problem-solving and entrepreneurship.

5

PASSION

Driving student engagement through impactful initiatives.

6

INCLUSIVENESS

Ensuring equal access to opportunities for all students.

MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR

Dear Partners and Supporters, Alice TalkWorld was built on a simple belief. Young people, and young women in particular, do not lack potential. They lack access. Access to mentors who actually pick up the phone. Access to the rooms where decisions get made. Access to the kind of structured support that turns raw ambition into a career, a business, or a seat at the table. Since our founding, that belief has translated into results. We have run leadership programmes, mentorship initiatives, and community outreach across four universities in Ghana, reaching over 10,000 young people directly and indirectly. Our Women's Connect programme has graduated its first cohort of 30 young women and is now training its second, with a sharpened focus on preparing more women for governance and public leadership.

We have built these results in partnership. The Swiss Embassy, the Kofi Annan Institution in Ghana, the Konrad Adenauer Stiftung, Zoomlion, MTN, and the Touch of Hope Foundation have all stood with us, and most recently we welcomed Untamed Voices into that circle, extending our reach into community development, health advocacy, and inclusive education for Ghana's deaf community. At the centre of everything we do is a young person, whether they are in a mentorship session, a community workshop, or simply figuring out their next step. That is not incidental. It is the whole point. Ghana's future will be built by the young people we work with today, and every programme we run is designed to put them in a stronger position to build it. None of this happened by accident, and none of it happens without partners willing to invest in the work before the results are guaranteed. That is exactly the kind of partnership we are inviting you into. Thank you for considering Alice TalkWorld. We look forward to building this future together.

Warm regards,

Alice Yakubu
CEO/Founder, Alice TalkWorld

Advancing Gender Equality in STEM: A Commitment to Africa's Future

As a Gender Working Group member of the All African Students Union (AASU), the Director of Alice TalkWorld continues to play a pivotal role in advocating for gender inclusiveness in education, leadership, and professional spaces across Africa. The Director participated in the AU and UNESCO STEM event in Ethiopia, a significant platform focused on advancing Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics (STEM) education and opportunities for African youth, particularly women and girls.

This engagement highlighted the pressing need for equal representation in STEM fields, emphasizing the importance of mentorship, policy support, and accessible resources to empower young African women. Through meaningful discussions with industry leaders, policymakers, and fellow advocates, the event reinforced the collective responsibility to bridge the gender gap and drive sustainable development in Africa. Through collaboration and advocacy, Alice TalkWorld and its leadership continue to contribute to a more inclusive and knowledge driven future for Africa.

KEY ACTIVITIES & IMPACT

ALICE TALKWORLD 2024 CONFERENCE Finding Your Feet

Alice TalkWorld organized a highly anticipated career and leadership conference that brought together some of the most influential figures in Ghana’s corporate and entertainment industries. Themed "Finding Your Feet," this event provided students with career guidance, networking opportunities, and real-world insights from accomplished professionals.

 March 9, 2024

 University of Ghana, Business School

Speakers & Panelists Include;

Nat Kwabena Anokye Adisi (Bola Ray)
CEO, EIB Network

Samuel Inkoom
Ghanaian footballer and Entrepreneur

Prince Akpa
Founder, Avance Media

Victoria Lebene
Actress and Entrepreneur

Dobia Zulaihu Abdullah
Executive Director, Divaloper

Edem Abagna
Management Consultant and Politician

Karim Adams Ewura
Executive Director, Maltiti Foundation

Impact

- ✓ Connected 500+ students with industry professionals.
- ✓ Provided actionable career advice and mentorship.
- ✓ Fostered professional collaborations and business networking opportunities.

INSPIRE CONFERENCE

Finding Your Path in Leadership,
Networking and Entrepreneurship

Kwame Nkrumah University of Science and Technology (KNUST)

Alice TalkWorld expanded its impact by organizing the Inspire Conference, a groundbreaking event focused on transforming ideas into actionable projects. Through workshops, keynote sessions, and panel discussions, students were equipped with practical knowledge to build careers and start businesses.

Impact

- ✓ Inspired students to take charge of their careers.
- ✓ Provided business mentorship and startup guidance.
- ✓ Created a network of young entrepreneurs and professionals.

ALICETALKWORLD KNUST PARTNERED WITH ZOOMLION

 Kumasi

Impact

- ✓ Desilted choked gutters
- ✓ Encouraged residents to maintain a clean environment
- ✓ Created awareness on the effects of environmental degradation

ALICE TALKWORLD LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE @UDS, Tamale

This conference was aimed at empowering students with leadership, career, and entrepreneurial skills. Bringing together industry leaders, policymakers, and student representatives, it provided a platform for insightful discussions on bridging the gap between academia and industry.

 March 4, 2024

 Dr. Andani Andan Academic Board
Chamber, UDS Tamale

Speakers;

Hon. Ibrahim Murtala Muhammed
Member of Parliament for Tamale Central

Representative from the University
Students' Association of Ghana (USAG)

Distinguished industry leaders and mentors

The discussions centered on “leadership, employability, mentorship, and entrepreneurship”, equipping participants with the knowledge and inspiration to take charge of their professional growth.

INNOVATORS IN HEELS FORUM

 July 9, 2024

 GCTU, Florence Onny Auditorium

Focus: This forum highlighted the achievements of female innovators and entrepreneurs, providing a platform for them to share their journeys and inspire others.

BREAST CANCER AWARENESS PROGRAM

 October 15, 2024

 Apostle Safo School of Arts and Sciences

Delivered in collaboration with Touch of Hope Foundation and ANIjje, the event featured seasoned speakers who provided valuable information on breast cancer awareness, early detection, and prevention strategies.

Leadership & Career Development Initiatives

Across 2024, Alice TalkWorld actively built a global community of young leaders by offering programs in leadership development, digital skills training, entrepreneurship and business acceleration, and women empowerment. These initiatives helped students transition from academic life into professional environments by providing them with the necessary skills, mentorship, and exposure.

Impact

- ✓ Partnered with leading organizations to provide internship opportunities.
- ✓ Hosted virtual and physical career workshops.
- ✓ Created mentorship programs with seasoned professionals.

2024 Measurable Impact

Over 10,000+ students impacted through direct and indirect engagements.

500+ mentorship connections facilitated between students and professionals.

Dozens of success stories from students securing jobs, internships, and funding for businesses.

KEY ACTIVITIES & IMPACT 2025

2025 wasn't an easy year resources were tight and the operating environment made things harder than usual. Even so, ATW reached over 600 people directly, brought new partners on board, and kept its programming focused on what actually matters: leadership, mentorship, women's empowerment, health advocacy, and community.

ATW COMMUNITY PICNIC KNUST

KNUST

Attendance 24 Participants

Objective: Team bonding and internal community strengthening.

- Strengthened relationships within the ATW community.
- Improved collaboration and internal alignment.
- Reinforced ATW's culture of belonging and shared purpose.

LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE UNIVERSITY OF CAPE COAST (UCC)

Engagements: 400+ participants
Direct impact: 50 individuals

Objective: Leadership awareness and personal development.

- Leadership capacity development among students.
- Practical leadership insights delivered through interactive sessions.
- Identification and mentorship of high-potential individuals.

INSPIRE CONFERENCE 2.0 KNUST

Engagements: 500 participants
Direct impact: 200+ individuals

Objective: Mentorship, inspiration, and empowerment.

- One on one and group mentorship opportunities.
- Empowerment of youth with actionable tools for growth.
- Strengthening ATW reputation as a hub for inspiration and transformation.

MENSTRUAL HEALTH AWARENESS INITIATIVE

Direct impact: 26 individuals

Objective: Promote menstrual hygiene education and awareness.

- Improved awareness on menstrual hygiene and health.
- Safe, informative discussions addressing stigma and misinformation.
- Tangible contribution to women's health advocacy.

WOMENS CONNECT FLAGSHIP INITIATIVE

Total applicants: 200+
Selected participants: 50

Objective: Empower women through coaching, mentorship, and leadership development. The program offered coaching from seasoned professionals and practical guidance on leadership, career growth, and personal development. Participants successfully graduated during the ATW at Five Celebrations.

- Transformed mindsets and enhanced confidence among participants.
- Created a strong pipeline of empowered women leaders.
- Reinforced ATW commitment to inclusive development.

ATW @ 5 ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

The ATW 5th Anniversary Celebration marked a defining milestone in the organization's journey. Expected attendance was 200; actual attendance exceeded expectations. Key achievements included the establishment of new partnerships (MTN, Verna, and others), powerful panel discussions and keynote deliveries, and the distinguished presence of high profile figures, including the Swiss Ambassador and other prominent leaders

- Elevated ATW's visibility and credibility.
- Strengthened stakeholder confidence.
- Positioned ATW for greater national and international relevance.

CHALLENGES AND RESILIENCE

The year came with real operational and resource constraints no point pretending otherwise. But ATW adapted, found work-arounds, and kept delivering. Those constraints ended up teaching the organization a few things about how to run leaner and sharper going forward.

KEY ACTIVITIES & IMPACT 2026 (CURRENT PROGRAMS)

Two things are running right now, mid 2026: the second cohort of Women's Connect, and a new partnership putting ATW in front of a community it hadn't worked with before Ghana's deaf student population.

Women's Connect 2026 (ATW-WC) Cohort 2

Theme: Voices. Power. Women Leading Change: Women in Governance & Public Leadership

Virtual training: 20th June – 8th August 2026 (8 weeks)

Community engagement: Women's Connect Impact Day: 15th August 2026 (1 day)

In-person conference & graduation: 22nd August 2026 (1 day),
Venue: Yota

Direct beneficiaries: 80 young women (virtual training cohort)

Conference participants: 300 young women, professionals, and emerging leaders

Building on the 2025 cohort 30 women graduated Women's Connect 2026 keeps the coaching and mentorship core intact but adds a real focus: getting more young women into political and public leadership roles, not just talking about representation in the abstract.

The programme runs in three stages: an 8 week virtual bootcamp; a one day Impact Day where participants go out and run their own leadership sessions at Senior High Schools and in local communities; and a closing in-person conference and graduation with panels, participant showcases, and induction into the Women's Connect Alumni Network.

Specific Objectives

- Strengthen leadership and personal development among young women.
- Build confidence in public speaking, communication, and self expression.
- Equip participants with personal branding and professional skills.
- Increase understanding of governance systems and women's role in political leadership and decision making.
- Develop participants' capacity in policy thinking, advocacy, and civic engagement.
- Provide mentorship and networking opportunities with female leaders, policymakers, and political actors.

Expected Outcomes

- Increased confidence and leadership capacity among participants.
- Improved public speaking and communication skills.
- Stronger personal and professional identities.
- Increased awareness and participation of young women in civic and political processes.
- New policy ideas and advocacy initiatives developed by participants.
- A strengthened Women's Connect Alumni Network of young women leaders.

UNTAMED VOICES PROGRAM PARTNERSHIP AT JAMAASE SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF

Alice TalkWorld partnered with Untamed Voices on a two-day programme introducing deaf students to technology and to chess, as a tool for building critical thinking. ATW's Lead for Inclusive and Special Initiatives, Kwadwo Sarpong Manu, represented the organization.

The students showed up ready curious, engaged, quick to pick things up. It's the kind of reaction that makes the case for inclusive programming better than any statistic could. ATW is proud to have been part of it and is looking at where else this kind of partnership makes sense.

Date: Friday, 5 June 2026

Location: Jamaase School for the Deaf

ATW Representative:
Kwadwo Sarpong Manu,
Lead for Inclusive and Special
Initiatives

Expected Outcomes

- Increased confidence and leadership capacity among participants.
- Improved public speaking and communication skills.
- Stronger personal and professional identities.
- Increased awareness and participation of young women in civic and political processes.
- New policy ideas and advocacy initiatives developed by participants.
- A strengthened Women's Connect Alumni Network of young women leaders.

UNTAMED VOICES PROGRAM PARTNERSHIP AT JAMAASE SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF

Alice TalkWorld partnered with Untamed Voices on a two-day programme introducing deaf students to technology and to chess, as a tool for building critical thinking. ATW's Lead for Inclusive and Special Initiatives, Kwadwo Sarpong Manu, represented the organization.

The students showed up ready curious, engaged, quick to pick things up. It's the kind of reaction that makes the case for inclusive programming better than any statistic could. ATW is proud to have been part of it and is looking at where else this kind of partnership makes sense.

Date: Friday, 5 June 2026

Location: Jamaase School for the Deaf

ATW Representative:

Kwadwo Sarpong Manu,
Lead for Inclusive and Special
Initiatives

MEASURABLE IMPACT SUMMARY (2024–2026)

|                                                            |                                                                                                                |
|------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Total students/individuals impacted (2024)                 | 10,000+ (direct and indirect engagements)                                                                      |
| Total individuals directly impacted (2025)                 | 600+                                                                                                           |
| Total engagements (2025)                                   | 1,000+ people reached                                                                                          |
| Mentorship connections facilitated (2024)                  | 500+                                                                                                           |
| Women selected into WOMENS CONNECT COHORT 1 PROJECT (2025) | 50 (from 200+ applicants)                                                                                      |
| Major conferences delivered across Ghana (2024–2025)       | 6+ (University of Ghana, UGBS, KNUST x2, UDS Tamale, UCC, and others)                                          |
| Strategic partnerships (2025-2026)                         | Embassy of Switzerland, Kofi Annan International Peacekeeping Training Centre (KAIPTC), MTN, Verna, and others |
| Women’s Connect 2026 cohort (in progress)                  | 80 direct beneficiaries; 300 conference participants                                                           |
| Women’s Connect graduates to date (2025 cohort)            | 30 young women                                                                                                 |
| New inclusive-education partnership (2026)                 | Untamed Voices - Jamaase School for the Deaf                                                                   |

EXPERIENCE OF SIMILAR PROJECTS

The ten project profiles below cover ATW work over the past three years.
Project 1: “Finding Your Feet” Conference ATW 2024 Conference

|                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Project Name“Finding Your Feet” Conference ATW 2024 Conference”       | Approx. value of contract (EUR)589.71 Euro                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Donor/funding sourceIn-Kind, DreamWeaver Foundation                   | Number of beneficiaries reached500+ students connected with industry professionals                                                                                                                                                       |
| Country and locationUniversity of Ghana Business School, Accra, Ghana | Duration of assignment (months)1                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| Contact Person, Title/Designation, Tel. No./Address                              | Alice Yakubu, CEO/Founder, Alice TalkWorld: yakubualice99@gmail.com / +233 24 201 0044                                                                                                                                                              |
| Start date & Completion date                                                     | March 9, 2024 (single-day conference)                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Description of Project                                                           | ATW put students in the same room as people who'd actually built the careers they're chasing CEOs, entrepreneurs, entertainers for a day of straight career guidance instead of the usual panel-and-photo routine.                                  |
| Description of activities carried out                                            | Keynotes and panels with the CEO of EIB Network, a Ghanaian footballer turned entrepreneur, and executives from Avance Media, Divaloper and Maltiti Foundation; structured networking breaks; one-on-one mentorship conversations on the sidelines. |

Project 2: Inspire Conference – “Finding Your Path in Leadership, Networking and Entrepreneurship”

|                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                        |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Project NameInspire Conference “Finding Your Path in Leadership, Networking and Entrepreneurship” | Approx. value of contract (EUR)368.57 Euro                                                                                                                                  |
| Donor/funding sourceIn-Kind, and partnership with SRC                                             | Number of beneficiaries reached300+ students connected with industry professionals                                                                                          |
| Country and locationKwame Nkrumah University of Science and Technology (KNUST), Kumasi, Ghana     | Duration of assignment (months)1                                                                                                                                            |
| Contact Person, Title/Designation, Tel. No./Address                                                          | Alice Yakubu, CEO/Founder, Alice TalkWorld: yakubualice99@gmail.com / +233 24 201 0044Juanita Adomaa Amakye- SRC President juanitaamakye@gmail.com 0241428372                  |
| Start date & Completion date                                                                                 | 2024 (single-day conference)                                                                                                                                                           |
| Description of Project                                                                                       | A hands on conference at KNUST built around one question: how do you actually turn an idea into a business? Students left with tools they could use, not just a pep talk.              |
| Description of activities carried out                                                                        | Workshops and panel sessions on leadership, networking and entrepreneurship; a live showcase where student entrepreneurs presented their own products; one on one start up mentorship. |

Project 3: AlicetalkWorld KNUST Community Clean-Up (in partnership with Zoomlion)

|                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Project NameAlicetalkWorld KNUST Community Clean-Up (in partnership with Zoomlion) | Approx. value of contract (EUR)110.57 Euro                                                                                                                          |
| Donor/funding sourceZoomlion Ghana Limited (in-kind partnership)                   | Number of beneficiaries reachedLocal residents of the surrounding Kumasi community                                                                                  |
| Country and locationKumasi, Ghana                                                  | Duration of assignment (months)1                                                                                                                                    |
| Contact Person, Title/Designation, Tel. No./Address                                           | Yeboah David- Chief Operating Officer, Alice Talk World- dyexsqua@gmail.com / 0550407543 Juanita Adomaa Amakye- SRC President juanitaamakye@gmail.com 0241428372 |
| Start date & Completion date                                                                  | 2024                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Description of Project                                                                        | ATW KNUST chapter teamed up with Zoomlion for a day of community sanitation work in Kumasi less talk, more shovels.                                                            |
| Description of activities carried out                                                         | Desilting choked gutters; a full community clean-up; door to door conversations with residents about upkeep and the real cost of environmental neglect.                        |

Project 4: Alice TalkWorld Leadership Conference

@ UDS, Tamale

|                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Project NameAlice TalkWorld Leadership Conference @ UDS, Tamale                                                      | Approx. value of contract (EUR)737.14 Euro                                                                                                                                                   |
| Donor/funding sourceDreamWeaver Foundation , UDS-SRC                                                                 | Number of beneficiaries reached500+                                                                                                                                                          |
| Country and locationDr. Andani Andan Academic Board Chamber, University for Development Studies (UDS), Tamale, Ghana | Duration of assignment (months)1                                                                                                                                                             |
| Contact Person, Title/Designation, Tel. No./Address                                                                             | Alice Yakubu, CEO/Founder, Alice TalkWorld: yakubualice99@gmail.com / +233 24 201 0044                                                                                                                  |
| Start date & Completion date                                                                                                    | March 4, 2024 (single-day conference)                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Description of Project                                                                                                          | A leadership conference at UDS Tamale that put students, policymakers and industry leaders in one room to talk honestly about the gap between what universities teach and what employers actually need. |
| Description of activities carried out                                                                                           | A keynote from the Member of Parliament for Tamale Central; input from a USAG representative and industry mentors; open discussion on leadership, employability, mentorship and entrepreneurship.       |

Project 5: Breast Cancer Awareness and Screening Program

|                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                  |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Project NameBreast Cancer Awareness and Screening Program                               | Approx. value of contract (EUR)147.43 Euro                                                                                                            |
| Donor/funding sourceDelivered in collaboration with Touch of Hope Foundation and ANIjie | Number of beneficiaries reached400+                                                                                                                   |
| Country and locationApostle Safo School of Arts and Sciences, Ghana                     | Duration of assignment (months)1                                                                                                                      |
| Contact Person, Title/Designation, Tel. No./Address                                                | Alice Yakubu, CEO/Founder, Alice TalkWorld: yakubualice99@gmail.com / +233 24 201 0044                                                                           |
| Start date & Completion date                                                                       | October 15, 2024                                                                                                                                                 |
| Description of Project                                                                             | A breast cancer awareness and screening drive for students, run jointly with Touch of Hope Foundation and ANIjie.                                                |
| Description of activities carried out                                                              | Talks from experienced health advocates on early detection and prevention; small group sensitization sessions; awareness materials handed out across the school. |

Project 6: Inspire Conference 2.0

|                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                              |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Project NameInspire Conference 2.0                                                            | Approx. value of contract (EUR)1,474.28 Euro                                                                                                      |
| Donor/funding sourceLeadership House Institute                                                | Number of beneficiaries reached500 engagements; 200+ individuals directly impacted                                                                |
| Country and locationKwame Nkrumah University of Science and Technology (KNUST), Kumasi, Ghana | Duration of assignment (months)1                                                                                                                  |
| Contact Person, Title/Designation, Tel. No./Address                                                      | Alice Yakubu, CEO/Founder, Alice TalkWorld: yakubualice99@gmail.com / +233 24 201 0044                                                                       |
| Start date & Completion date                                                                             | 2025                                                                                                                                                         |
| Description of Project                                                                                   | The second edition of Inspire Conference at KNUST bigger turnout, deeper mentorship, and a sharper focus on giving students tools they could use right away. |
| Description of activities carried out                                                                    | One on one and group mentorship sessions; keynote and panel discussions; direct follow up engagement with KNUST students after the event closed.             |

Project 7: WOMENS CONNECT (Flagship Initiative)

|                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                               |
|-------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Project NameWOMENS CONNECT (Flagship Initiative) | Approx. value of contract (EUR)110.47 Euro                                                                                                                                         |
| Donor/funding sourceBritish Council              | Number of beneficiaries reached200+ applicants; 50 selected participants                                                                                                           |
| Country and locationBritish Council              | Duration of assignment (months)3 months                                                                                                                                            |
| Contact Person, Title/Designation,Tel. No./Address      | Adwoa A. Brenyah- Gender LeadAlice Talk World                                                                                                                                             |
| Start date & Completion date                                | 2025, culminating in graduation at theATW @ 5 Anniversary Celebration                                                                                                                     |
| Description of Project                                      | ATW's flagship women's programme competitive selection, real coaching from working professionals, and a cohort that graduated together as a group, not just individuals with certificates.    |
| Description of activities carried out                       | Coaching from seasoned professionals; practical sessions on leadership, career growth and personal development; a formal graduation ceremony held during the ATW @ 5 Anniversary Celebration. |

Project 8: ATW @ 5 Anniversary Celebration

|                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Project NameATW @ 5 Anniversary Celebration                                                           | Approx. value of contract (EUR)2,211.42 Euro                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Donor/funding sourceNew strategic partners including MTN and Verna, Streamline Solution, and In-kind. | Number of beneficiaries reached200 expected attendees; actual attendance exceeded expectations                                                                                                                                     |
| Country and locationAccra, Ghana                                                                      | Duration of assignment (months)1                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| Contact Person, Title/Designation, Tel. No./Address                                                              | Alice Yakubu, CEO/Founder,Alice TalkWorld: yakubualice99@gmail.com / +233 24 201 0044                                                                                                                                                     |
| Start date & Completion date                                                                                     | 2025                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| Description of Project                                                                                           | ATW @ 5 is a landmark celebration that commemorates five years of empowering young Africans while serving as a strategic platform to strengthen partnerships and engage key stakeholders. Beyond celebrating the organization's achievements. |
| Description of activities carried out                                                                            | Panel discussions and keynotes; graduation of the WOMENS CONNECT cohort; formal partnership announcements; attendance from high-profile guests including the Swiss Ambassador.                                                                |

Project 9: Women’s Connect 2026 (ATW-WC) Cohort 2: Women in Politics & Public Leadership

|                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Project NameWomen’s Connect 2026 (ATW-WC)Cohort 2: Women in Governance & Public Leadership             | Approx. value of contract (EUR)2,948.56 Euro                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Donor/funding sourceKofi Annan International Peacekeeping Training Centre (KAIPTC)                         | Number of beneficiaries reached80 direct beneficiaries (virtual training cohort); 300 conference participants                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| Country and locationGhana Virtual training nationwide;In-person conference & graduation at Yofa, Accra | Duration of assignment (months)3 months (20 June – 22 August 2026)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| Contact Person, Title/Designation, Tel. No./Address                                                                   | Alice Yakubu, CEO/Founder,Alice TalkWorld: yakubualice99@gmail.com / +233 24 201 0044                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| Start date & Completion date                                                                                          | 20 June 2026 (training start) to 22 August 2026 (conference & graduation)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| Description of Project                                                                                                | Cohort two of ATW's flagship women's programme, now sharpened around a specific goal: getting more young women into governance and public leadership. Same coaching and mentorship backbone as 2025, with a new political literacy and advocacy track layered on top.                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Description of activities carried out                                                                                 | An 8 weeks virtual bootcamp covering leadership, personal branding, public speaking, governance and political literacy, policy and advocacy, digital visibility, ethics, and mentorship; a one day Impact Day where participants run leadership sessions at Senior High Schools and in local communities; and a closing conference and graduation with panels, participant showcases, and induction into the Women’s Connect Alumni Network. |

Project 10: Untamed Voices Program Partnership at Jamaase School for the Deaf

|                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Project NameUntamed Voices Program Partnership at Jamaase School for the Deaf           | Approx. value of contract (EUR)221.14 Euro                                                                                                                                          |
| Donor/funding sourceDelivered in partnership with the Untamed Voices program leadership | Number of beneficiaries reachedStudents of Jamaase School for the Deaf                                                                                                              |
| Country and locationJamaase School for the Deaf, Ashanti Region, Ghana                  | Duration of assignment (months)1 (two days program; ATW represented on Day 1)                                                                                                       |
| Contact Person, Title/Designation, Tel. No./Address                                                | Kwadwo Sarpong Manu, Lead for Inclusive and Special Initiatives, Alice TalkWorld                                                                                                               |
| Start date & Completion date                                                                       | Friday, 5 June 2026                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Description of Project                                                                             | A two days partnership with the Untamed Voices program, giving students at Jamaase School for the Deaf hands on time with technology and a chess programme built to sharpen critical thinking. |
| Description of activities carried out                                                              | Interactive digital skills sessions; chess instruction adapted for a deaf student population; facilitation led by ATW Lead for Inclusive and Special Initiatives, Kwadwo Sarpong Manu.         |

FUTURE GOALS

ATW works with corporate partners, business leaders and policymakers to give students real exposure, real employment pathways, and real entrepreneurial support. Building on 2024 and 2025, here's what's next:

- Expanding conferences to more universities in Ghana and across Africa.
- Launching a structured mentorship & internship program for students.
- Developing a digital platform where students can access resources, connect with mentors, and explore career opportunities.
- Providing seed funding for student-led entrepreneurial projects.

CONCLUSION

Between 2024 and 2026, Alice TalkWorld has run major conferences at four universities, reached over 10,000 students directly and indirectly, and built a partner list that now includes MTN, Verna, Zoomlion, and the Untamed Voices program. The work has ranged from career conferences and leadership training to breast cancer screening, menstrual health advocacy, and most recently inclusive education for deaf students.

The throughline across all of it is simple: give young people, and young women especially, real access to mentors, to networks, to the rooms where decisions get made. Women's Connect has graduated one cohort and is running a second, this one aimed squarely at getting more women into politics and public leadership. That's not a side project.

It's where the organization is heading.

On the international side, the Director's work with the All African Students Union and participation in the AU & UNESCO STEM event in Ethiopia kept ATW's advocacy for gender inclusion and STEM education connected to the wider continental conversation, not just the Ghanaian one.

Five years in, ATW is more visible, better connected, and clearer about its direction than it has ever been. The next phase is about scale more universities, more partnerships, and a platform that outlasts any single conference or cohort.

atw@alicetalkworld.org

www.alicetalkworld.com

alicetalkworld

INVEST IN YOUNG LEADERS
INVEST IN THE FUTURE